

Dear guests and partners,

I hope and wish that all of you are well, healthy and encouraged to face with optimism this new season 2022. Until now we have lived through a difficult situation, which has affected all of us in one-way or another. Thankfully, due to the efforts of many we are managing to overcome all obstacles and gradually recover to normality.

At La Gavina, the well-being and safety of our guests has always been a priority. We are well aware that now more than ever we must double our efforts to also guarantee your tranquility and well-being. Fortunately, the Hostal de La Gavina has a privileged geographical location that, in addition to its beautiful sea views, prides on an extensive environment enclosed by delightful gardens that provide visitors with a feeling of privacy, tranquility and calm. In addition, this season our team continues with a detailed plan of measures for the prevention of Covid-19 infections within the establishment. Our objective is to comply with the regulations required by the authorities while also taking a further step to ensure your peace of mind and trust.

All these measures will be published on our website so that you can review them before your arrival at the Hotel. I am at your entire disposal should you require any further clarification. Ultimately, our aim is that you can forget about the pandemic during your holidays and enjoy with your family and friends all the services and amenities that La Gavina has been preparing for this season. Not only new sanitary measures have been put in place, La Gavina has also prepared, as every year, a list of novelties and improvements, ranging from the refurbishment of its facilities to exquisite innovation in the gastronomical offer and the incorporation of new experiences for the whole family, both inside our resort as well as around the most beautiful corners of the Costa Brava.

Lastly, from all the team and the Ensesa family, we would like to take this opportunity to express our sincere gratitude for your continued loyalty to this hotel. We hope that you will continue to trust us and that we can welcome you another year to S'Agaró.

Sincerely,

Alberto Depau
General Manager
